

CHRIS REESE

I was the second of four boys being raised by my mother in the 1960's.
Our home was broken when my parents divorced in 1963.
To raise four boys and work full time was a daunting task for mom.
By the early 70's, I was getting high and drinking alcohol.
My life was beginning to spiral out of control.
The life I had chosen had by the late 80's, landed me in jail and later in the early 90's to be homeless and an IV drug user.
In and out of jail and state run rehabs was my course.
The final straw was that I tried to commit suicide Dec. 4, 1994.
Then a prayer was lifted up for me by my mother in an Experiencing God small group.
God started to work, to give me hope. I was asked if I would go to a place in New York.
Not a rehab, but a place where men go who have life dominating problems.
This place was Transformation Life Center.
On my first day I met God thru accepting Jesus Christ as my savior. I never looked back.
The Lord gave me peace in my soul and an understanding of His word.
I graduated in April of 1996.
God gave me a loving wife and friend in Oct. 1996.
In 2001 God once again blessed us with a little boy (Anderson).
Today I am fortunate to sit on the board of TLC and take my responsibilities seriously.
I thank God and my wife (Darla) for all the support and guidance that I receive daily.
